Taking steps forward

Together we're moving forward with suicide reduction;
one step at a time.

THERE'S A DISEASE OUT THERE...

Mental health has never been higher on the agenda across both education and business.

Suicides may not be predictable, but they are preventable. You can raise awareness and equip people with the skills to connect with at-risk staff and customers with high-quality education.

☐☐ Suicide awareness and prevention training can save lives! Often people who have not received any training or had any experience avoid the subject. This qualification will increase knowledge ☐☐
